

Moments become memories . . .

Just as the journey of a thousand steps begin with a small step, a long and beautiful life is made up of countless moments – some beautiful, some not; some may occur again, some never, but each one leaving an imprint of its own.

Some of the most joyous moments are the time spent with our families – our parents, siblings, spouse and children. We grow with them, and the moments spent with them are very precious. As children, we may not remember many things which happened. Hence, it is fun to listen to our parents narrating our antics. Similarly, the joy of parenthood is best captured in the actions of our children – their birth, holding them in our hands, seeing their innocent smile, naming ceremony, their first sounds, first words, first step, first drawing, first vacation, first day at school . . . , the list is endless.

While we record these memorable moments in pictures or videos, how can we save them for eternity? Scrap books have limited space and can't store videos. Saving them in our computer does not assure easy access. Also, a crash in the hard drive and all memories go boom!! We may not be comfortable sharing them with anyone on social media. So how can we have document all these memories and see them whenever we want, share them with our loved ones, leave a legacy for our children to remind them of a wonderful childhood they had? Is there a simple solution?

Yes!! There is – Welcome to MeMyFolks

MeMyFolks is a digital solution for documenting the wonderful memories of your family. It is a place where you can create individual profiles for your loved ones, write posts about special moments, add images and videos, even voice notes like the first words spoken by your kids, they singing their favourite nursery rhymes, their annual day performances at school etc. In short, with MeMyFolks, you can create your own digital scrapbook to document all the lovely memories online; only for your personal reference, without the fear of strangers getting access to them. MeMyFolks provides the flexibility to share multiple types of files and media, which makes MeMyFolks, a 360° solution.
